Conversations with God in the Bhagavad Gita

Presented by Andrew Mournehis

In a love-starved world, the hidden message of love in the Bhagavad Gita is much needed. We are all spiritual beings, entitled to rejoice in eternal love with the divine, but how can we keep that love uncontaminated by selfishness and misidentification with illusion? The battlefield setting of the Gita calls all of us to become spiritual warriors and conquer the selfish lower self with the selfless higher self.
